IMUA UNVEILS EDUCATIONAL SCHEDULE FOR EARLY 2021
Remote Classes & Webinars for Professional Development

New York, NY, January 25, 2021 – The Inland Marine Underwriters Association’s (IMUA) announced its schedule of classes, courses and webinars for early 2021. The series is part of the association's remote learning program, introduced last year, allowing association members to attend courses and take webinars while working from home.

Kevin O’Brien, IMUA President & CEO, in announcing the schedule said, “Association members who have taken advantage of our remote learning programs last year, have requested several topics that enable them to continue to stay out in front of key issues that still confront the inland marine industry. Based on these suggestions, we have put together a schedule that offers something for everyone. Also, we are now creating the framework for our 90th Annual Meeting to be held virtually this May. We will be releasing information on this key event shortly.”

O’Brien noted that IMUA’s popular 2-day course Introduction To Inland Marine Insurance will once again be offered April 19-22.

IMUA’s upcoming 2021 schedule includes:
